THE EMPEROR'S CROWN ENDS LIFE BY HANGING

To Rest on Head of Gov. Cox by Short Ballot Law.

In a recent interview at Washington, Attorney-General Hogan intimates that he will be a candidate for United States Senator, thus leaving Gov. Cox a clear field for re-nomination so far as he is concerned. Mr. Hogan predicted that the short ballot constitutional proposition will be overwhelmingly defeated at the November election. "We are trying," he exclaimed, "to make the Democratic party democratic and are opposed to making the state into a Kingdom."

Further along in the interview it developed that Attorney-General Hogan has become numbered among the "logologists" for the Governor in connection with the short ballot. He said he was not criticizing the Governor for supporting the short ballot proposition. "The short ballot proposition was in the Democratic platform and the Governor felt that it ought to be submitted to the people. In fact, I advised him to do just what he is doing."

Indeed. Then our friend Timothy has been covering up his supposed ingenuousness—or is this confession merely a soothing plaster for the Governor? The Governor has gone far beyond the Democratic platform according to numerous speeches by Mr. Hogan. The Governor has not only recommended the submission of the short ballot proposition to the people but he has advocated the adoption of the amendment and he knows its adoption will make him practically the Emperor of Ohio.

MORE DIVORCES WANTED.

Compelled to live in a house with the window curtains drawn so that she could not see out, was one of the things Gracie V. Miller had to endure, according to her divorce petition just filed against Rudolph W. Miller. She says they were married November 16th, 1911, and that four days later the defendant ordered her to keep the curtains drawn down. She says that since their marriage, he has become addicted to drink and when intoxicated has called plaintiff vulgar and vile names and that he has questioned the legitimacy of their child. She recites that he has allowed but $3 a week for the support of herself and child since he left them. She asks alimony and custody of the child.

DECISIONS RENDERED.

Lillian Hobart vs. Albert C. Hobart, divorce granted to plaintiff on ground of gross neglect; plaintiff restored to former name of McDonald; costs to be paid from deposit and judgment against defendant therefor.

Herbert Hosler vs. Ida Hosler, divorce denied; petition dismissed at costs of plaintiff; judgment.

After hearing the case of Gebert vs. Gebert Friday morning, Judge Baldwin urged the parties to get together and agree to live as husband and wife, as he could see no good reason for their doing otherwise. He is holding the case under advisement, pending decision of the parties.

Dyspepsia is America's curse. To restore digestion, normal weight, good health and purify the blood, use Burdock Blood Bitters. Sold at all drug stores. Price $1.00.

Fear of Insanity Causes Bloomdale
Girl to Hang Self.

Miss Rosa Purcell, 33, who, with her mother, Mrs. J. J. Purcell, came to Bloomdale, Wood County, from Bartonville, Ill., about six months ago, ended her life by hanging herself in the attic at her home, at an early hour Friday morning. Fear of insanity, due to ill health, which had affected her mind, is given as the cause of her act.

The body was found by her mother when she failed to get a response to a call for breakfast.

The suicide had wrapped one end of a strap about her neck and fastened the other end to a rafter. She then tied a rope about her hands after she had stood upon a box she had placed upon a chair. Then she kicked the box over and strangled to death.

The mother called neighbors and the body was taken down. It was still warm, but life was extinct and the coroner was summoned.

EXPERIMENT FARM

One Cigar a Day will Pay all the Expense.

The Agricultural Commission of Ohio believes in county experiment farms. Such farms properly managed prove a blessing. Farmers do not generally travel to Wooster and inspect the State Experiment Farm. The Experiment Farm must come to the farmer. Wooster has learned many lessons that are a valuable guide in establishing county farms. At any regular November election any county can vote on the question of having such a farm. It must contain at least 80 acres. These farms are usually opposed by farmers and favored by towns and cities in the voting. After they are established, they put money in the pockets of those who voted against the farm. The farm furnishes good, tested seed, adapted to the soil and climate of that immediate neighborhood. The farm furnishes this good seed to the farmer at a lower price than it can be secured elsewhere. The man who kicked the loudest against the farm usually wants the most seed at the lowest price. One bushel of good seed from the farm at a reasonable price will repay all the taxes which the average farmer will pay toward the cost of such a farm. By smoking one cigar less and investing in such a farm, Mr. Farmer can make money instead of burning money. The farmer who keeps books and knows something about arithmetic usually favors progress.

A Marvelous Escape.

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.

SEND ME A DOLLY

This Is The Plea Of Many A Poor
Little Girl.

"Please, Santa Claus, send me a dolly." This was the message a little girl requested a lady friend of the family to send for her.

Only a dolly! And this will bring happiness to a childish heart.

The Santa Claus Club of Perrysburg is finding many places where there is need of many things for the comfort of little children whose Christmas cheer will be mighty slim unless the club can get enough help to do the work and furnish the necessary clothing, food and toys for the comfort of the children.

Several persons have offered their names and are ready to do their share, but there is much to do, and thus far only a few people who have offered, so we are asking for more. If, for any reason, any person does not wish to be generally known as identified with the club, we can assure them their contributions will be received and properly distributed.

If every citizen who can, will help just a little, there will be much good done and much happiness result to worthy, needy children, whose poverty and helplessness is not of their own making and to whom the Santa Claus Club will be their only reminder that there is such a thing as Christmas cheer.

Will you join us? Tell the editor to put your name on the honor roll. Come, play Santa Claus.

BADLY BEATEN

But Extended Most Cordial Treatment by Blissfield Boys.

The local High School football team was defeated at Blissfield last Saturday by a score of 72 to 0.

The local team was outweighed at least thirty pounds per man. Blissfield's center weighs 268 pounds.

Although handicapped, the locals put up a game fight and held their opponents to one touchdown in the first quarter. H. Fuller received an injury in the second quarter and was removed from the game. After that the locals did not appear as strong as before. In this quarter Blissfield scored four touchdowns, but failed to kick one goal.

Perrysburg braced in the third and Blissfield scored twice. Both goals were missed. In the last quarter Blissfield scored four touchdowns, but kicked only two goals.

The entire squad made the trip. A. C. Fuller, Ward Hanson and the principal of the High School accompanied the team.

PLEASANT RECEPTION.

On Wednesday evening last the members of the M. E. church and congregation held an informal reception in the church parlors for the purpose of extending a welcome to Rev. and Mrs. Baumgardner, who have been assigned to this pastorate for the coming year. The meeting was well attended and most pleasant in every respect. Charles Snyder acted as chairman and introduced a number of speakers all of whom responded very gracefully, and with the music and refreshments the occasion was very enjoyable.

A GENTLE AND EFFECTIVE LAXATIVE.

A mild, gentle and effective laxative is what people demand when suffering from constipation. Thousands swear by Dr. King's New Life Pills. Hugh Tallman, of San Antonio, Tex., writes: "They are, beyond question, the best pills my wife and I have ever taken." They never cause pain. Price 25c at druggists, or by mail. H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.—Adv.

SOME OBSERVATIONS

Things Seen and Unseen, Wise and Otherwise, True and Untrue.

That many people go farther and get less is very true in regard to those who enjoy fishing with hook and line. It is very fashionable for disciples of Isaac Walton to purchase expensive outfits, travel many miles and endure many hardships for the joy of catching a few fish, where if the same amount of time and effort were given to fishing in the Maumee river, the results in "catch" would be equal if not greater than that obtained by going away from home.

An editor, who seems to be looking backward, says: "We have lots of young ladies and lots of pert misses, but the sweet, old-fashioned girls of ever so long ago have vanished along with the poke bonnets and cinnamon cookies." To this spasm of grief, I can only reply—"Oh slush." Official records prove that girls are made of the same material and by the same rules that have prevailed ever since the first change of fashions in the garden of Eden, and the fact that they are now done up in a different style of package from that of "ever so long ago" is a credit to the sex and a joy to that part of the world that looks forward instead of back into the musty past of "poke bonnets and cinnamon cookies."

What is the good of holding the key to the situation if you can't find the keyhole.

A gentleman of much travel in and through adjoining states tells the Journal that it is really interesting to note the great change in the tone of conversation relative to Perrysburg, and the advantages of home life in this village. In every section the name of Perrysburg seems to be known, and unlike former times, the name of the historic village is mentioned with respect, and people of wealth and refinement are looking in this direction with the understanding that to live in Perrysburg is a favor that only the wise can enjoy—because it is only the wise and farseeing man who is taking advantage of the present time to purchase a home in this place where property values will never grow less and where opportunities to secure desirable locations will soon be very scarce and are rapidly ascending the scale of high prices. Every piece of building property in Perrysburg is worth every cent the owner may ask for it. There is nothing cheap in Perrysburg.

Ex-Clerk E. L. Blue was in town to-day shaking hands with many friends. Mr. Blue is now giving his attention to editing the Perrysburg Journal and boosting for the home town.—B. G. Sentinel.

It is not often I publish anything like the above item, but this exception may be pardoned for the reason that I regard the item in the Sentinel as a high compliment, in that it refers to the editor of the Journal as a "booster for the home town," and we are very proud to be known as a man who will speak well of his home town when away from home. And if there be no other "star in my crown" that one star of loyalty to home shall ever shine. How about you, dear reader? Is your star shining? If not, just polish it up a bit, and let the people at home and abroad know that you, too, are boosting for Perrysburg.

They were a young couple and were evidently having their first spat, when wifey said: "Yes, I married you to spite Fred Jones." "Well" said hubby, "I wish to goodness you had married Fred Jones to spite me." Tears.

Chronic Dyspepsia.

The following unsolicited testimonial should be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7 Sherman St., Honesville, N. Y. For sale by all dealers.
